WILSON AWAITING SPEECH OF LLOYD-GEORGE IN HOUSE BEFORE ACTING

NO FORMAL COMMENT LIKELY FROM U. S.

PRESIDENT WILSON ATTACHES
GREAT IMPORTANCE TO PROB-ABILITY OF ASSOCIATION OF NATIONS TO MAINTAIN PEACE.
(The Associated Press.)

WASHINGTON, Dec. 15.—President Wilson probably will not finally decide on any formal step in connection with the German peace proposals until the British premier, Lloyd-George, speaks in the house of commons Tuesday. Meantime the American diplomats in the entente capitals are keeping the American government closely informed.

The president and Secretary Langing conferred today for the first time since the peace proposals were made public.

The German and Austrian notes will probably be forwarded before night and will probably be accompanied only by informal notes of transmission. No formal comment from the White House or state department is expected to accompany them. Most of the cabinet ministers are known to hold the view that the American government should proceed cautiously.

The statement of the German embassy that at least partial disarmament will be considered at the peace conference attracted the widest attention.
Germany has in the past repeatedly refused such suggestions.

President Wilson is known to attach great importance to the possibility of the establishment of an association of nations to maintain peace, and hopes that any exchange of views that may follow the peace proposals from the entente powers to the entente allies may develop an opportunity for the suggestion of a league of nations to enforce peace.

It is realized that the American course probably must be guided largely by the reception given the Teutonic offer in the entente countries, although it is regarded as certain that either informally or formally, quietly or publicly, the government here will find a way or displaying its interest in the restoration of peace.

MALIBU CHAPTER, R. A. M.,
HOLDS ANNUAL ELECTION
At the regular convocation of Hallow Chapter, No. 5, Royal Arch Masons, Thursday afternoon and evening there were four candidates for inductions, with work in all degrees, and annual election of officers. Between the afternoon and evening sessions entertainment was enjoyed at the international church supper which was given in the social hall of that church.

The officers elected were as follows:
High Priest, Jacob Espedahl; King,
W. V. Carter; Scribe, E. L. Shear;
Treasurer, W. G. Hobbs; Recorder, A.
E. Carter.

The appointive positions were not filled Thursday evening.

The many friends of little Cecil will be pleased to hear that he is on the road to recovery after suffering a severe accident about two weeks ago.

Wheat Drops Nearly 11 Cents; Bethlehem Steel Goes Down With a Crash 47 1-2 Points

(The Associated Press.)

CHICAGO, Dec. 15.—The statement of the German embassy that one of the important subjects for discussion in the peace parley would be universal disarmament, together with other peace reports and stock market weaknesses sent wheat tumbling today.
May wheat dropped 10 1/2 cents within the first hour.

NEW YORK, Dec. 15.—Violent selling of stocks was the feature of the New York Stock exchange today, created by the fear of the effect of peace
on the earnings of munitions and steel plants. Bethlehem steel lost 47 1/2 points and other steel three to 12 points but partially recovered later.

SIX LOCAL NEGROES ARE FOUND GUILTY OF SELLING BOOZE

CHIEF OF POLICE T. O. MILTON
TAKES SIX BLIND TIGER CASES TO CRIMINAL COURT—ALL ARE FOUND GUILTY.

Chief of Police T. O. Milton carried six blind tiger cases to DeLand this week from Daytona. The six negroes arrested were as follows: Robert Smith, a Midway barber; Alfred McBurney, a workman of the Bond
Lumber company; Eddie Anderson, who runs a Midway cafe; R. A. Kyles,
of the Midway pool room; Grant Gooden, who runs a fish market in Newtown; and Alonzo Smith, one of the negroes in the Blind Fiddler's string band. Four of these pleaded guilty to the charge of selling liquor and the other two were convicted of the same charge by a jury.

Chief Milton has carried nearly 40 blind tiger cases to DeLand during the past year, practically all of which have been convicted or pleaded guilty.
Every one of the negroes, who received sentence at the present term of court are home men, who have lived in Daytona for years. Mr. Milton has accomplished a great deal of good work in doing away with cases of this kind.

There is no man in Daytona who knows more about the probabilities of blind tiger cases and about tracing them down than the present chief of police. His county office as deputy sheriff expires at the first of the year.
No arrangement has yet been made as to the county officers for Daytona after that time. Many hope that the new sheriff will see fit to reappoint
Chief Milton because of his excellent work in the past.

TEUTONS CAPTURE BUZEU; RUSSO-RUMANIAN ARMIES APPEAR IN DIRE DISTRESS

SAFE-CONDUCT TO BE GIVEN AMBASSADOR FROM AUSTRIA TO U. S.

(The Associated Press.)

LONDON, Dec. 15.—The foreign office today announced that because of the representations by the United States government, the entente allies had decided to grant safe-conduct to Count von Tarnow, recently appointed Austro-Hungarian ambassador to the United States.

SIX HUNDRED ATTEND BIG OPENING DANCE AT BURGOWNE CASINO

LARGEST CROWD EVER ATTEND-ED A LOCAL DANCE ENJOYS LONG EVENING OF FUN AND FROLIC.

The opening dance of the Burgoyne Casino for the present season took place last night from 9:00 to 12:00, with nearly 600 people attending. This is the largest crowd that ever went to a local public dance with the exception of the Elks' Charity ball.

At one time there were at least 200 couples dancing on the floor. The large crowd was very well-behaved and enthusiastic and all were pleased with the music, furnished by Tucker's orchestra under the direction of Leader Maurice Kirk. Residents of Daytona, Seabreeze, Daytona Beach,
Ormond and New Smyrna were numbered among the crowd as well as scores of winter visitors. The dance met the approval of all attending and was a first-class entertainment such as no one could condemn. If the late donor of the casino might have seen last night's entertainment, the pleasure recorded on the faces of those enjoying the evening, would have shown him the fullest appreciation and gratitude for his generous gift.

Another dance will be held on Thursday night of next week. This dance will be the last until the grand

New Year's ball on the evening of December 31. Tickets for this ball will not be free, as for all other dances,
but will cost 50 cents. The money will be used for the band fund and
in this manner, those who feel unable
to contribute to the regular fund, may
help by attending the dance.

SAID ORANGES WERE BEST
THAT HE HAD EVER SEEN
Bank Examiner T. E. Fletcher, of Fitzgerald, Ga., while here recently, met at the First National bank D. C.
Clifton, of Holly Hill, who presented him with a couple of oranges grown by Mr. Clifton in his grove at Holly Hill. Mr. Fletcher said at the time that they were the finest oranges he had ever seen; bright, smooth-skinned and juicy, and he had been all over the state. He took the oranges home with him and Mrs. Fletcher was so delighted with them that he wrote to W. E. Sullivan, cashier of the First National, and requested Mr. Sullivan to have a box of the fruit shipped to him, which Mr. Sullivan did. It is a fact that oranges grown on the hammock lands of this section are the finest in the world.

NEW YEAR'S BALL ON THE EVENING OF DE-CEMBER 31. Tickets for this ball will
not be free, as for all other dances,
but will cost 50 cents. The money
will be used for the band fund and
in this manner, those who feel unable
to contribute to the regular fund, may
help by attending the dance.

DECLARATION OF PRINCIPLE

Of the Association of National Advertisers.

(Adopted at Dayton, O., May 5, 1916.)

Resolved, That we, members of the Association of National Advertisers, are opposed to advertising of the following kinds:

All advertising that is fraudulent or questionable, whether financial, medical or any other; all advertising that is indecent, vulgar or suggestive either in theme or treatment; that is "blind"
or ambiguous in wording and calculated to mislead; that makes false,
unwarranted or exaggerated claims;
that makes uncalled for reflections on competitors or competitive goods;
that makes misleading free offers; all advertising to laymen of products containing habit-forming or dangerous drugs; all advertising that makes remedial, relief or curative claims, either directly or by inference, that are not justified by the facts or common experience; and any other advertising that may cause money loss to the reader or injury to health or morals or loss of confidence in reputable advertising and honorable business.

Resolved, That we recognize our own obligation as advertisers to conform to these principles.

Resolved, That we urge upon all publishers and upon all sellers of advertising space or service, a strict adherence to these principles, and that insofar as the exigencies of our individual businesses will permit, we direct our advertising to those mediums which make the observance of these principles their rule and practice.

Daily Thought.

When we take people merely as they are we make them worse; when we treat them as if they were what they should be we improve them as far as they can be improved.—Goethe.

Daily Thought.

To do with as few things as we can,
and, as far as we can, to see to it that these things are the work of freemen and not of slaves; these two seem to me to be the main duties to be fulfilled
by those who wish to live a life at once free and refined, serviceable to others and pleasant to themselves.—William Morris.

FIFTEEN DISTINCT FEATURES IN THE KENNEDY SHOWS

Fifteen separate and distinct features comprise the Con T. Kennedy Shows, which will pitch their tents on the Volusia avenue lot next Monday for a five days' stand. Each is complete within itself and appeals to the fancy of the showgoing public. These attractions include: Coney Island side-show, Samar (Siamese) twins, motordrome, monkey speedway. The Whip, Eddie Fay, society horse show, ragtime village, sixteen turners, illusion show, carry-us-all, European wonder show, the miracle, Garden of Allah, busy city and ferris wheel.

In addition to these there will be free acts twice daily and band concerts.
The reigning princess in the Garden of Allah is Amorita. This little lady has danced in every country in the world and has made every city of importance in the United States.
Her interpretation of the antics of Tepischore is said to be most interesting.
Monday afternoon the big carnival starts and will give afternoon and evening performances daily for five days. Saturday they will move to Key West.

Proper Restriction.

Put this restriction upon our pleasures: Be cautious that they injure no
being which has life.—Zimmermann.

Apprehensive.

Burroughs—"I know a man who looks so much like you that one could hardly tell you apart." Lenders—"You haven't paid him that five I lent you three months ago, have you?"

Praying Made Easy.

Mechanical devices for repeating prayers are familiar in the East, but they are outdone, in saving of labor, by the "prayer flags" of Tibet. These are suspended on long lines, sometimes reaching across a river. As long as they are moving in the breeze they are supposed to be recording prayers
for the benefit of those who put them up.

shock to Patience when she learns that Penfield is engaged for she is in love with him despite the fact that he has never actually made love to her. She lives through infinite torture on his wedding day but when a son is born to Edith, Patience becomes the child's almost constant companion.

Edith neglects the babe more and more shamefully in order to go out with Paul, and Penfield is too busy to notice her gradual hardening. Penfield accidentally stumbles upon the truth, but not until Patience has been discharged by Edith because of the latter's jealousy of the Quaker girl. Returning unexpectedly, Penfield discovers his wife's whole miserable conduct, and orders her out of the house, together with Paul. The two culprits depart upon a yacht which is wrecked and Penfield finds all his years of labor has earned him nothing but loneliness.

Patience has returned to Amity Center to find John married and the heart broken girl is only saved from giving way to her anguish by the arrival of Penfield, whose thoughts have constantly refused to turn from her since the day he discovered that he was a free man.

LIONEL BARRYMORE
AT NEW DAYTONA THEATRE
Virtile action and romance fill the five acts of "The Brand of Cowardice," the latest starring vehicle for the two popular stars, Lionel Barrymore and Grace Valentine. It is a dashing story of the Mexican border.

Charles Magnie, a retired officer of the regular army, is the author of both the story and the scenario, and John W. Noble, also a former army officer, is the director, so that this stirring photodrama is correct in every detail. The colorful life of the Mexican border is carefully reproduced. Skirmishes and guerilla warfare are shown in such a way as to make the heart beat fast with excitement.

"The Brand of Cowardice" is Grace Valentine's first appearance before Metro patrons since "Dorian's Divorce." She previously appeared in "The Blindness of Love" and "Black Fear." Mr. Barrymore's latest productions have been "The Upheaval," "The Quaker" and "Dorian's Divorce." In the last named of these he starred with Miss Valentine.

In "The Brand of Cowardice" Mr. Barrymore plays Cyril Van Cortlandt Hamilton, a society man who has never had either a responsibility or a worry. He is engaged to Marcia West (Miss Valentine) the daughter of a colonel in the regular army. Cyril belongs to a New York regiment of the guard, but when the troops are ordered to the border he resigns his commission rather than suffer the physical discomforts of a real campaign. Marcia, who has been brought up in army circles, calls him a coward and gives him back his ring. Hart to the quick, Cyril enlists as a private in an Irish regiment and goes to the front.

Cyril has to meet brutality in the person of Corporal Mallin of his regiment and treachery in the person of Navarete, the Mexican bandit chief who is in love with Marcia and has been repulsed, but he triumphs over both. Marcia accompanies her father and mother to the border. Navarete captures her and Cyril follows, burns the Mexican village and saves Marcia, killing Navarete with his bare hands. Marcia and Cyril escape, but they are pursued by the Mexicans. The fugitive put up a brave fight until they have only one cartridge left. Marcia, now freely acknowledging her lover's courage, tells him to kiss her in farewell and then use the cartridge to kill her and save her from the bandits. Just as Cyril is about to press the trigger he himself is shot down.

How the two are saved by Col. West and the United States troops, how Cyril, though dangerously wounded, recovers to claim Marcia as the reward of his courage, is told in a graphic fashion.

The cast of favorites supporting the stars includes Robert Cummings, Kate Blanche and John Davidson, all well known to Metro patrons.

This picture shown Saturday at the New Daytona theatre.

Daily Thought.

Many of our cares are but a morbid way of looking at our privileges. We let our blessings get moldy and then call them "curses."—Beecher.

Nothing Done by Indifference.

Indifference never wrote great works, nor thought out striking inventions, nor reared the solemn architecture that awes the soul, nor breathed sublime music, nor painted glorious pictures, nor undertook heroic philanthropies. All these grandeur are born of enthusiasm, and are done heartily.—Anon.

Its Probable Meaning.

"I see they have just dug up a cornerstone of a library in Greece on which was inscribed '4,000 B. C.'" remarked a student to a Scotchman. "What do you suppose it means?" "It canna mean bu' one thing," answered the Scot, solemnly. "Before Carnegie."—Christian Register.

GLACE NUTS are very toothsome indeed and may be prepared at home at much less than they cost in the shops. For the sirup which makes the glaze you will need two cupfuls of ordinary sugar, a cupful of boiling water and a teaspoonful of cream of tartar. Put these in a smooth saucepan and heat to the boiling point. Let boil, but do not stir until the sirup begins to discolor. After a few minutes the sugar will stick to the side of the pan. Remove this and then put the saucepan with the boiling sirup in a large pan of cold water. This will stop the boiling at once. When this has stopped put the saucepan in a pan of hot water during the dipping. A long hatpin is handy to manage the nuts, which should be dipped into the sirup separately and then placed on oiled paper to cool.

Maple sugar sweets are quite easy to make, requiring a cupful of milk and one of cream for a pound of maple sugar. Break the sugar into small pieces and stir constantly. When the whole mixture has boiled till a few drops of cold water hardens stir in a cupful and a half of nut meats. Pour into a buttered dish and when hard break into pieces like molasses candy.

For Chocolate Caramels all you need is a pound of brown sugar, a quarter pound of unsweetened shaved chocolate and half a cupful of water. Boil the same as fudge and before removing from the fire add a generous lump of butter and cupful of walnut or other nut meats if you like, though the nuts may be omitted. After it is poured into a butter pan, cut it in squares before it gets hard.

discomforts of a real campaign. Marcia, who has been brought up in army circles, calls him a coward and gives him back his ring. Hart to the quick, Cyril enlists as a private in an Irish regiment and goes to the front.

Cyril has to meet brutality in the person of Corporal Mallin of his regiment and treachery in the person of Navarete, the Mexican bandit chief who is in love with Marcia and has been repulsed, but he triumphs over both. Marcia accompanies her father and mother to the border. Navarete captures her and Cyril follows, burns the Mexican village and saves Marcia, killing Navarete with his bare hands. Marcia and Cyril escape, but they are pursued by the Mexicans. The fugitive put up a brave fight until they have only one cartridge left. Marcia, now freely acknowledging her lover's courage, tells him to kiss her in farewell and then use the cartridge to kill her and save her from the bandits. Just as Cyril is about to press the trigger he himself is shot down.

How the two are saved by Col. West and the United States troops, how Cyril, though dangerously wounded, recovers to claim Marcia as the reward of his courage, is told in a graphic fashion.

THE WEATHER

The low pressure area over Texas on previous map has moved northward and is now over South Carolina this morning. It was preceded by rain and warmer weather and followed by northwesterly winds and much colder weather. A snowstorm over the lake region, the middle Atlantic states and southward to Tennessee.

A severe cold wave has overgrown Texas, Louisiana and Arkansas with backing to the south Texas coast and also over northwestern Arkansas. Temperatures are falling again over the northern plains states, but are still generally below the seasonal average. The winds are moderate southwest over the Atlantic shifting to fresh northwest on the Gulf coast.

For much colder weather is indicated for this section tonight and Saturday.

In Perfect Faith.

Grandma and granddaughter of four were watching grandpa cover their faithful old friend Jack with sod. Little May looked up and saw grandma crying. It moved her so that she thought she would say something to comfort her, so she waited a little while until the task was completed, and then looked up at the aged pair and said: "Well, don't cry, grandma. Poor old Jack has gone to dog heaven."

Music of Living.

All one's life is music if one touches the notes rightly and in time. But there must be no hurry. There is no music in a rest, but there's the making of music in it. And people are always missing that part of the life melody and scrambling on without counting. Not that it's easy to count, but nothing on which so much depends ever is easy.—John Ruskin.

Derivation of "King."

Kings in the earliest days were merely the "fathers of families," and the word is derived from the same source as "kin."

For Whooping Cough.

The painful paroxysms which mark this disease can often be relieved by breathing the fumes of turpentine and carbolic acid.

Furniture Polish.

An excellent furniture polish is made by mixing together equal parts of boiled linseed oil, vinegar and methylated spirits.

J. A. DUPEE, A WINTER VISITOR DIED THIS MORNING

Jacob A. Dupee, aged 84, died this morning at 1934 Magnolia avenue, where Mr. and Mrs. Dupee have resided with their niece, Mrs. Ella M. Mason for the past few weeks since coming south in October from Earlville, Ill. Mr. Dupee is a retired merchant of Earlville, who was spending the winter here.

Making the Best of It.

Marjorie had a red-and-yellow clown suit given her and thought it would be great fun to surprise mamma and papa, but her big brother put the suit on and got ahead of her, so Marjorie put in a tearful time for several minutes, when she came to me and said, "Mamma, won't you please forget the color?" thinking she might still surprise us as she first planned.—Chicago Tribune.

"Apple-Pie Order."

The expression "in apple-pie order" is traced to Puritan times, to the good housewife Hephzibah. Every Saturday the good woman baked two or three dozen apple pies, which were to last her family through the week. These she placed in her pantry, labeling one or more for each day. The pantry, thus arranged, was said to be "in apple-pie order."

Cardinal Mercier Protests Against Enslaving Belgians

(The Associated Press.)

NEW YORK, Dec. 15.—Cardinal Mercier's protest against the deportation of Belgians to Germany, only brief excerpts of which came in the cable dispatches, has been received here by the Associated Press in its full text, as follows:

"Malines, November 7, 1916. 'Every day the military authorities deport from Belgium into Germany thousands of inoffensive citizens to oblige them there to perform forced labor.

"As early as October 19th we sent to the governor general a protest, a copy of which was handed to the representatives of the Holy See of Spain, the United States and Holland, in Brussels, but the governor general replied to it that nothing could be done.

"At the time of our protestation, the orders of the occupying power threatened only the unemployed; today every able-bodied man is carried off, pell-mell, assembled in freight cars and carried off to unknown parts, like a herd of slaves. The enemy proceeds by regions. Vague rumors had come to our ears that arrests had been made in Tournai, Ghent and Alost; but we were not aware of the conditions under which they had been made. Between October 24th and November 2nd, it occurred in the region of Mons, Quiévrain, Saint Guislain, Jemappes, in bunches of 800 to 1,200 men a day. The next, and the following days, it occurred in the Arrondissement of Nivelles. Here is a specimen of the announcement of the proceedings:

"By order of the Kreischel every male person over 17 years old, shall present himself, Place Saint Paul, in Nivelles, on November 8th, 1916, at 8 o'clock (Belgian time) 9 o'clock (central time) bringing with him his identification card and eventually his card from the Meldeamt.

"Only small handbaggage is permitted. 'Those not presenting themselves will be forcibly deported into Germany and will besides be liable to a heavy fine and to long imprisonment.

"Ecclesiastics, physicians, lawyers and teachers are exempt from this order.

"The mayors will be held responsible for the proper execution of this order which must be brought immediately to the knowledge of the inhabitants.

"Between the announcement and the deportation there is an interval of only 24 hours.

"Under pretext of public works to be performed on Belgian soil, the occupying power had attempted to obtain from the communities the lists of working men out of work. Most of the communities proudly refused.

"Three decrees from the general government prepared the way for the execution which is in force today.

"Under date of August 15th, 1915, a first decree imposes, under penalty of imprisonment and fine, forced work is to be executed in Belgium, and that non-compliance will be adjudged by Belgian tribunals.

"A second decree, dated May 2nd, 1916, reserves the right of the German authorities, to supply work to the idle and threatens a fine of three years' imprisonment and 20,000 marks imposable on anybody executing or ordering to be executed work not approved by the general government.

"Under the same decree, the right to judge infractions which had remained with the Belgian tribunals, passes from the Belgian to the German tribunals.

"A third decree, dated May 13th, 1916, authorizes the governors, the military commanders and the chiefs of arrondissements to order that the unemployed be conducted by force to the places where they must work.

"This was already forcible working, although in Belgium.

"Now it is no longer a question of forcible working in Belgium, but Germany and for the benefit of the Germans.

"To give an appearance of plausibility to these violent measures the occupying power insisted in the German press, both in Germany and Belgium, on these two pretexts: the unemployed constitute a danger to public order, and a burden on official benevolence.

Signor S. Napoletano, who plays the double-bass in the Casino orchestra and is also a pictorial artist graduate of the Royal Academy of Naples, Italy, offers to the public his services to paint portraits, pictures of domestic life or landscape in oil or water-color and also interior decoration of churches or residences.

his children, at the point of the bayonet they block the entrances to the homes preventing wives and mothers from rushing out to say a last farewell to them; they align the captives in groups of forty or fifty and push them forcibly into freight cars; the locomotive is under pressure, and as soon as a train load is ready, an officer gives the signal and they depart. Thus another thousand Belgians reduced to slavery, without previous trial, condemned to the penalty which comes next in cruelty to the death penalty, deportation. They don't know how long their exile is going to last, neither do they know where they are going. All they know is that their work will benefit the enemy. Several of them have been brought to sign—by coercion or by threats—an agreement which they dare to call 'voluntary.'

"While they certainly take the unemployed, they also take a large number—in the proportion of one quarter for the Arrondissement of Mons—of men who were never out of work and belonging to diversified professions—bakers, butchers, tailors, brewery workers, electricians, farmers, they even take the youngest men, college and university students, or young men from other high schools.

"This in spite of the fact that two high authorities of the German empire had formally guaranteed the liberty of our compatriots.

"The day after the capitulation of Antwerp, the frightened populace asked itself what would become of the Belgians of military age or those which would arrive at that age before the end of the siege. Baron von Huene, military governor of Antwerp, authorized me to reassure in his name the frightened parents. However, as rumors were running that in Antwerp, Liege, Namur and Charleroi, young men had been seized and forcibly carried off to Germany, I asked Governor von Huene to confirm to me in writing the verbal guarantees which he had given me. He replied that the rumors pertaining to deportations were without foundation, and he gave me without hesitancy the written declaration which was read on Sunday, October 15th, 1914, in all the parochial churches of the Arrondissement of Antwerp: 'Young men need not fear of being carried off to Germany, either for enrollment in the army or for forcible employment.'

"Immediately after the arrival of Baron von der Goltz in the capacity of governor-general at Brussels, I went to ask him to ratify the guarantee given by Governor von Huene to the province of Antwerp, extending them to the whole country, without any time limit. The governor general retained my petition in order to consider it at his leisure. The following day he was good enough to come in person to Malines to express his approval, and in the presence of two aides-de-camp and my private secretary, to confirm the promise that the liberty of the Belgian citizens would be respected.

"In my letter of October 16th last to Baron von Bissing, after reminding him of the undertaking given by his predecessor, I concluded: 'Your excellency will understand how painful the burden of responsibility I should have incurred towards families would be the confidence they placed in you through me and at my earnest entreaty should be so lamentably disappointed.'

"The governor-general replied: 'The employment of the Belgian unemployed

ed in Germany, which has only been initiated after two years of war, offers essentially from the captivity of men fit for military service. However, the measure is not robust, the conduct of the war properly requiring, but it is determined by economic and economic causes.

"As if the word of an honest man was terminable at the end of a year or two! As if the declaration made in 1914 did not explicitly condemn both military operations and labor! As if, in fine, every Belgian workman who takes the place of a German workman, did not enable the latter to fill a gap in the German army!

"We, the shepherds of these sheep who are torn from us by brutal force, full of anguish, at the thought of the moral and religious isolation, in which they are about to languish, impotent witnesses of the grief and terror in the numerous homes shattered or threatened, appeal to all souls, believers or unbelievers in allied countries in neutral countries, and even in enemy countries, who have a respect for human dignity.

"When Cardinal Lavergne embarked on his enslavement campaign, Pope Leo XII, as he blessed his mission, remarked: 'Opinion is more than the queen of the world. It is on this you must work. You will only conquer by means of opinion.'

"May Divine Providence deign to inspire all who have any authority, all who are masters of speech and pen, to rally around our humble Belgian flag for the abolition of European slavery.

"May human conscience triumph over all sophisms and remain steadfastly faithful to the great precept of St. Ambrose: Honour above everything! Nihil Praefereendum Honestati.

"In the name of the Belgian Bishops: (Signed) D. J. CARDINAL MERCIER, Archbishop of Malines.

DEFEATS $17,000 BONDING ISSUE

DAYTONA BEACH DECIDES THAT IMPROVEMENTS MUST COME BEFORE PURCHASE OF LAND AND CASINO.

The bond issue election held Monday at Daytona Beach for bonds to the amount of $17,000 for improving and repaving the East beach and $1,000 for street paving failed by one vote. Twenty-two were cast against bonding and 20 for bonding, the 20 votes making the issue a tie, which was necessary to defeat the issue.

The opponents and champions of the issue, worked all day long before the polls, and the result of the vote proved that the issue of both sides were needed.

The town council, Wednesday night, after the election judges as to the qualifications of voters in the election. He decided that in order to vote, the citizens must have paid the 1935 taxes. As soon as this was known several hastened to pay their taxes that they might vote.

The bond election will probably be held within the next few months for the purpose of voting several thousand dollars for bond money to repave the principal streets of Daytona Beach. It is also probable that such an election will include an appropriation for beginning of a sewer.

The hot and heavy discussion over the bond purchase issue, prevailing in the newspapers and by word of mouth, is now at an end and, as a well-known resident of Daytona Beach stated this morning, may well be called "ancient history."

TWO STRANGE APPEARING SHIPS SEEN ON HORIZON

Several Seabreeze residents noticed two ocean ships which came into view on the eastern horizon last Tuesday afternoon. The first boat was seen about 10:30 in the morning and was apparently hastening to the south. Its funnels gave forth large amounts of black smoke which streaked the ocean line for some time after the disappearance of the ship.

Nearly an hour later another vessel moved into sight at about the same place. With binoculars, three funnels and a fighting top could be seen. This ship followed the path of the first and was out of sight in a few minutes.

Many kinds of conjectures were made by the beach people who saw the boats but nothing definite could be ascertained.

XMAS MEETING OF SANS SOUCI CLUB

The Sans Souci club met Thursday afternoon at the home of Mrs. J. P. Esch, on Peninsula drive, for a very interesting session. After the business hour music on the piano by Mrs. Julia May Peck, was enjoyed by the members. The literary number of the afternoon was a review of F. Hopkinson Smith's "Colonial Christmas" which was given by Mrs. W. C. Greene.

At the close of the literary period, the ladies distributed their Christmas gifts in keeping with their usual custom, at this time of the year.

At 4:00, the husbands of many of the ladies arrived as they were invited, and enjoyed a pleasant social hour over cups of coffee and delicious doughnuts. Toward evening the guests left for their respective homes.

The next meeting will be held at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Thos. H. Beach, on Hollywood avenue, Daytona Beach.

A Forgotten Existence

By ELEANOR MARSH

I was traveling on a railway train. Suddenly I felt a sharp pain in my head. Then I lost consciousness. When I came to myself I saw several persons standing about me, one, a woman, with a bottle of smelling salts in her hand. I tried to recall where I was going. I could not. Then I tried to recall from where I had come. I failed in this too. Doubtless I appeared dazed to those about me, for a woman said:

"She'll come all right presently. Give her a chance to collect her faculties."

After I had been asked a few questions I gave those about me to understand that I wished to be left alone, and one after the other they went to their seats. Then to my horror I found that I didn't know my own name. I didn't know my parents' name nor who they were. Everything beyond the present was lost in oblivion.

Would it all come back? I believed it would. But it did not. I looked in my purse and found tickets to a city and bank bills to the amount of $24, besides some silver. I searched among a few slips of paper hoping to see my name. There was not a word to suggest who I was.

Not caring to go into a large city in such a condition I got off at a suburban station. It was springtime. I passed a snug cottage, in the grounds of which were two little girls playing. I craved some one to speak to and preferred these innocents to any one else. The gate was open, and I entered the yard, calling to them to come to me. They did so, and I put an arm about each of them. I talked to them and they to me. I cared not what was said, I felt comfort in their company.

"Papa!"

One of the children looked up at some one entering the gateway. I followed the direction of her glance and saw a man about to enter. There was something so kindly in his face that I felt impelled to tell him my trouble and ask his advice as to what I should do. He listened to me, asked me a few questions, then said:

"Come into the house and we will see what can be done for you."

His household was run by an elderly woman. There was also a nurse for the children. He told the former to give me a room for the night, and he and I and the children dined together. After dinner he informed me of steps he proposed to take on the morrow to discover my identity, suggesting that I examine my clothing to discover if there was a mark that would help us. After dinner I went to my room and made the examination. There was nothing to give any clue.

Mr. Seagrave, the gentleman, telephoned an advertisement to a newspaper in the city describing me and the incident connected with me. He said he thought my relatives would be on the lookout for such a notice and I would hear from them very soon. He also gave me permission to remain in his house till I was claimed or my memory returned. I had enough money to pay my board for two or three weeks, but after that I would be penniless.

Time passed and no one claimed me. I wondered if I had any relatives. I judged that I was about twenty-one years old. Had I been married? If so my husband would doubtless move heaven and earth to find me.

When three weeks had gone by I tendered Mr. Seagrave my $24 for my keep and told him that it was all I had. He offered to discharge the nurse and make me the governess of his children. I gladly accepted.

A doctor who was called in to see me said that he was of the opinion my loss of memory had been occasioned either by a former sickness or trouble. I showed no sign of having been ill, and there was no evidence of a past trouble.

What I had been I knew not. I knew that I was very happy in Mr. Seagrave's home. I loved the two little girls, and I grew to love him. A widower, he naturally pined for a woman's companionship. I had not been in his house a year before he asked me to marry him.

Alas! I knew not whether or no I was free to marry any one. There was a long struggle between my desire to be his wife and to mother his two dear little girls. He seemed to have made up his mind to take the chances himself, and at last I consented. We were married. He, I and the children were happy.

About two years after my marriage I awoke one morning after a long sleep my former self. It was a horrible awakening. I had married a man who had treated me brutally, and after a terrible scene I had caught up what money there was in the house and left him. He had married me in opposition to his parents' will and had thus given up a fortune.

I told Mr. Seagrave that my memory had returned, that our marriage was not legal. He bade me be comforted, that all would come out right. I gave him information to guide him, and he proceeded to look up the case.

One day soon after this he came home and took me in his arms, evidently very happy. He told me that my former husband had died and that his father had advertised for me. I went to see him, and he said he had sought me that he might make amends for his son's cruelty. He was very rich and at once settled a part of his fortune on me. When he died I received the rest.

Wouldn't You Covet a Wrap Like This?

From the Pathe Florence Rose Fashion Film.

THERE has never been a season when evening wraps were so luxurious and so beautiful. Gorgeous brocades, the richest of velvets, metallic figured silks and always furs, all are requisitioned to make a garment that is a worthy introduction to the gown of a gown so effectively casual. This model is developed in amethyst velvet, with the deep shawl collar and cuffs of ermine. There is an interesting feature in the skirt section, which is joined to the straight line Mogen age upper section with the cart-ridge plaiting. The pockets, too, are the last word—the stick out type which reminds one so strongly of the wall pockets that are used for flowers. Embroidered in varicolored floss, glazing with gold thread, they are an ornamental addition with a useful purpose. ANNA MAY.

SUGGESTS A BETTER ACQUAINTANCE WITH AFFAIRS OF ORIENT

The following interesting letter received by the News, conveying the suggestion that the people of this country would do well to become more familiar with the people of the Orient and the existing conditions there, and that this can in a great measure be accomplished through the press of the country, is worthy of deep consideration:

Editor Daily News:
"Since the price of Newspaper began advancing along with the general high cost of living, after the beginning of the European war, it has been suggested, through the California Press association, that 300 country town newspapers had suspended publication. It is likely that, should the present high price of paper continue to go skyward, either the price of newspapers must be raised accordingly, or reduce the pages, or suspend their publication altogether. Already some of the big northern papers have reduced their pages and cut down all important news items to a shortest possible form.

In view of this astounding fact in newspaperdom, a small country town paper that confines its feature news to the local interest cannot afford to give a liberal space for foreign laws, unless it is, for instance, of such an importance as that of the latest shake-up of the British cabinet or that of Germany's peace proposal that took us by a distinctive surprise.

But to my delightful discovery, I observe in a recent issue of your paper, a fine reproduction of the portrait of the Japanese secretary of communication. To the average American, the portrait of a member of the Japanese cabinet, which was organized lately by a soldier-statesman, is of no interest, unless he or she is vitally interested in Oriental affairs.

Nevertheless, when we come to think that we misread Japanese more and infinitely more, while they misunderstand us on many things, and that there is that Japanese question in this country yet to be solved, it should not be untimely advice that our papers, large or small, allow a liberal space for the news of the Far East and of the prominent men of that part of the world, so that we can manage to understand them better. In this regard, I think the Daily News should be congratulated upon being exemplary to the other similar papers, in giving due attention to Japanese affairs.

A NIPPIN-JIN.

A CHRISTMAS CHERUB

The crowds down town today are fierce. And I am crushed or very near it. I only pray that through it all I'll keep that loving Christmas spirit.

ONLY 7 MORE SHOPPING DAYS.

INTERESTING MEETING HELD BY LOCAL CHAPTER D. A. R.

The December meeting of the Abigail Bartholomew chapter, D. A. R., was held at the beautiful home of Mrs. H. Y. Stillman, North Beach street, her mother, Mrs. William Ronald, acting as hostess.

The meeting being an open one visiting Daughters were welcomed. The response to roll call brought out many interesting facts about old-fashioned school books. The most interesting papers were given, one by Mrs. N. C. Sears on "Founding of American Colleges," and the other by Miss Lucy Cross, on "Educators of Colonial and Revolutionary Times."

For the social hour, the ladies adjourned to the well appointed dining room, where punch and many goodies were served from the pretty table, where the hostess presided, with the gracious hospitality peculiar to southern women.

When He Worked.

A celebrated author thus sketched out his daily program to an interviewer: Rise at 11, breakfast at 12; attention to mail; a few afternoon calls; a ride in the park; dinner; the theater; and then to bed. "But when do you do your literary work?" he was asked. "Why, the next day, of course," was the reply.

Really Mother's Fault.

Her grandma was visiting at the house and Lucille slept with her that night. The next morning grandma said: "Lucille, what makes you kick so? Why don't you lie still at night?" Lucille answered: "I can't stop, grandma, 'cause mother never taught me not to kick when I was little."

Peace Above Passion.

First keep thyself in peace, and then thou wilt be able to bring others to peace. A peaceful man does more good than one that is very learned. A passionate man perverts even good into evil, and easily believes evil. A good, peaceable man turns all things to good.—Thomas a Kempis.

Lightning Change Artist.

Administrations came and went at Washington, but a Vermont postmaster held his office for 24 years. When someone asked him how it came that he could do so, he replied with engaging frankness, "Wal, it takes a damned smart administration to change quicker than I can."

Family's Privileges.

"I dined at my fiancée's home today," remarked young Snyder at the club. "Oh, indeed?" asked his elderly friend. "They regard you as one of the family by this time, don't they?" "Not yet. They haven't reached the point where they bawl me out if I make a spot on the tablecloth."

Chorrera.

Much of the interior of Panama loses that effect of a tropical jungle which one associates with the name. On the south coast especially the scenery is in places rugged. There are numerous rivers from which power can be obtained, and in fact it has been determined that from such beautiful falls as those of Chorrera sufficient power is available to operate the contiguous portion of the new system of interior railways.

THE WESTERN UNION TO REMEMBER EACH EMPLOYEE DURING HOLIDAY TIME

By a special vote of the directors of the Western Union Telegraph company, held a few days since, it was determined and planned that because of the extraordinary conditions which have existed during the past year one single payment would be made to each employee of the company who had been in service since the first day of last January—or longer; and by the terms of the circular letters, sent out it may be seen that these gifts will be of no small size.

Even the messengers who have been employed continuously for the entire current year will be recipients of checks for $25, and all employees receiving $1,200 or less per year will receive seven per cent of the annual wage. Those who receive in excess of that amount will receive six per cent of the annual wage. These gifts will fall to the ordinary laborer as well as to the highest men in the employ of the company—provided that during the year just closed there shall have been taken no longer leave of absence than thirty-one days.

The amount of money to be thus paid as gratuities will reach an enormous sum.

Nothing Doing for Tim.
Tattered Tim—I've been trampin' four years, ma'am, an' it's all 'cause I heard the doctors recommend walkin' as the best exercise." Mrs. Prim—"Well, the doctors are right. Walk along."—Kansas City Star.

She Knew the Feeling.
Aviator—"And then when you are up pretty high—three or four miles, say—and you look down, it's positively sickening. It is stupendous, awful. A great height is a fearful thing. I can tell you." Lady (feelingly)—"Yes, I can sympathize with you, poor boy. I feel just that way myself when I'm on top of a stepladder."—Tiger.

Cure for Stammering.
There are cases of stammering which simply cannot be cured whatever means are tried. But nine people out of ten can cure themselves if they will only think they are going to stutter, and if they will learn for a time to speak slowly and distinctly. An excellent help, too, is to read aloud to oneself.

Probably Was.
A North of Ireland orator in a Scottish county constituency sought to ingratiate himself with his audience at the outset thus: "Gentlemen, I am an Irishman. I am proud to be an Irishman, but I am not ashamed to admit that I have a drop of Scotch in me." And for fully a minute he could not understand what the uproar was about.

about, and the great and general economic loss and waste incident to the present times have removed Central Europe from the list of places where one could spend a few weeks in great comfort and still save the price of a first class steamer ticket. Travel after the war will be as expensive in Europe as in the United States, if not more so, some believe.

At the present time such a thing as an empty room in a Vienna hotel has ceased to be. Nowadays a room worth having in a Vienna hotel can be obtained only by getting one's name on the waiting list, and even this is impossible if the would-be patron is unknown to the management. Visitors still under the impression that Vienna hotels are run on the old basis usually spend hours after their arrival trying to find a room and then end up by sleeping in some hotel corridor on a cot at a price which formerly would give them a good room. Those unlucky enough to reach Vienna with a night train may spend their first night in the station. At one of the best Vienna hotels the price for a suite of two rooms and bath went up by 28 crowns a few days ago, this increase being incident to a general rise which added from two to five crowns to even the plainest rooms. In Budapest conditions are possibly a trifle worse. Even Sofia is seeing a rise in prices in hotel accommodation which is unprecedented in the Balkans, and Constantinople, boasting of but two first-class, and three second-class hotels, has become altogether impossible for the ordinary traveler.

The cause for this is the same everywhere. The war prevents people from going to the wintering places in the south, and amusement is therefore sought in the large cities. Refugees from districts in the war zones, and the many officers on leave of absence or convalescence, not to mention innumerable government agents and purchasers, also make heavy demands on transient living quarters.

Vienna has opened two large hotels since the outbreak of the war, and is about to open a still larger one. In Budapest a high class hotel was on the verge of going into bankruptcy owing to a lack of business, when the war started. It is now running full blast and making money.

Taxicab sins may also be mentioned. Though most of them run on "mechanical" tires of little or no shock absorbing qualities and have not been renovated internally since August 1914, their drivers want just four times what they charged before the war. Higher cost of fuel and living is the answer. The same factors caused a slight increase in Vienna street car fares recently.

GENEVA, Switzerland, Dec. 15.—"It is a veritable financial absurdity," says the Tribune de Geneve commenting on the low price of the dollar in Switzerland, which is now worth five francs fourteen centimes, whereas the normal price is five francs eighteen centimes, while Swiss money is at a great premium in Paris, London and New York. In Paris, for example, a 100 franc Swiss note is worth 114 to 118 francs today. Americans living in Switzerland are losing by the exchange rates. The Tribune adds that the situation is extraordinary because, whereas America is full of gold and lending millions to the belligerent nations, Switzerland is surrounded by fighting nations and has contracted a debt since the war, of over 700,000,000 francs, but its credit is increasing as the war progresses. The Swiss government intends shortly to raise another loan of 100,000,000 francs for mobilization and other purposes.

AMSTERDAM, Netherlands, Dec. 15.—The Dutch branch of the League of Neutral countries has presented to the Great Eastern Railway company, a marble memorial plate, with a bronze medallion portrait in relief, in memory of the shooting by the Germans of Captain Fryatt, of the Steamship Brussels.

Missed Little.
Listen, girls: If you have never met your ideal man, you haven't missed much.—Galveston News.

Business System in Paraguay.
An unusual custom prevails in Paraguay, and it is known as "contra accounts." The wholesaler sells the goods he buys from the foreign manufacturer to small dealers through the interior of the country, and makes over the bills against these small dealers to the manufacturer from whom he purchases as collateral security for his own indebtedness. The established length for credits, in this country, is six months.

Not to Be Expected.
A certain knight growing old, his hair fell off and he became bald; to hide which imperfection he wore a periwig. But as he was riding out with some others a hunting a sudden gust of wind blew off the periwig and exposed his bald pate. The company could not forbear laughing at the accident and he himself laughed as loud as anybody, saying: "How was it to be expected that I could keep strange hair upon my head when my own would not stay there?"

Proud of Roman Strain.
The organizing and educational power of the Roumanians reveals itself with incomparable force. The occupation of Trajan Dacia by the Roman colonists lasted less than two centuries (106-270); it was maintained longer, it is true, south of the Danube in Mesia. This short space of time sufficed, nevertheless, to impress upon native populations such a stamp of "latinity" that today the Roumanian peasant designates himself "Roman" with the same pride as that of the ancients of Rome.

Daily Thought.
It seems to me it is the same with love and happiness as with sorrow—the more we know of it, the better we can feel what other people's lives are or might be, and so we shall only be more tender to them and wishful to help them.—Elliot.

Nature's Punishment Sure.
Sickness is punishment for breaking one of nature's laws, and ignorance of the law is no excuse. Nature is kind, but she knows no pity for ignorance—unless we are willing to pay years of penance for a day's negligence.

Height of Vanity.
"Some men," said Uncle Eben, "is so vain that if dey could read deir own epitaphs dey'd believe every word of 'em."

Noted a Resemblance.
A lady entertained her sewing society, about thirty ladies being present. They had a very social time. The next morning her little boy, aged three, was sitting on the porch with his father. The chickens were making more noise than usual. He looked up and said: "Papa, are the chickens having a sewing society, too?"

News.
The word "news" is commonly supposed to be derived from the adjective new. It is said, however, that its origin is traceable to a custom in former times of placing in the newspapers of the day the initial letters of the cardinal points of the compass, N. E. W. S. These letters were to indicate that the paper contained intelligence from four quarters of the globe.

Never Is.
"I think that cooking is woman's work," said the young wife. "Yes," answered her husband, as he pushed away his share of the turkey, "and I have heard that woman's work is never done."

D. C. Baldwin, of Jacksonville. Now at the Van Dorn, Phone 149 Green. 11-3t

Mrs. E. T. Merrill, former winter resident, with many friends in Daytona and vicinity, arrived Thursday evening from Portland, Maine, and at present is with Mrs. J. E. Stillman at the corner of Ridgewood and Volusia avenues.

*Lost: Boston Bull, female; white neck and head; one black ear, one white. Answers name "Mugga." Reward, Princess Isena. 11-3tc

Mr. and Mrs. W. B. Treadway, of Columbus, Ohio, who are with Rev.
and Mrs. S. L. Jackson at the Christian church parsonage on South
Palmetto avenue, were New Smyrna
visitors from Thursday until today.

*Make your Christmas selections at Wallace's and you make no mistake.
No advance in prices. 6-15t

Mrs. Leon Despland, who had been in the city for two weeks or longer,
looking after property interests, returned Thursday afternoon to Palatka.
While here Mrs. Despland was with Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Realing and daughter, Miss Florence Realing, at their home on South Palmetto avenue.

Miss Isabel Donnelly, who has been in Philadelphia, Penn., during the summer, stopped over in this city Thursday evening to visit Mrs. Helen D. Simonds for awhile before going on to her home in Palm Beach. Miss Donnelly has visited here a number of times in the past and her visit will be enjoyed by friends made on those occasions.

*A lined Armadillo basket makes an appropriate gift at Wallace's. Sent through the mail. 6-15t

Mrs. J. L. Robinson, who came to Daytona about two weeks ago from St. Augustine, where she had undergone a serious operation, and had been with her parents, Mr. and Mrs.
W. H. Parker, on West Volusia avenue, left Thursday afternoon to rejoin
Mr. Robinson at their home in Seville.
She expects to come to this city again soon, however, and her four little sons are here with their grandparents.

Mrs. August Schmidt and little daughters, Dorothy and Augusta, arrived Thursday evening from Brooklyn, N. Y., to spend the winter, as usual, with Mr. and Mrs. Henry Schmidt at Schmidt's hotel, Beach street and Second avenue. Mrs.
Schmidt had planned to come earlier
but was delayed by the illness of her mother, remaining until she showed improvement. In the meantime Mr.
and Mrs. Schmidt were restraining their impatience to see their daughter-in-law and grandchildren, of whom they are exceedingly fond, and whose winter sojourn with them they thoroughly enjoy.

Seems to Lack Something.
"De man who claims dat money is his best friend," said Uncle Eben.
"never looks like he has found very entertaining company."

Unique School Idea.
Attendance at a Runford (Me.)
school is encouraged by a peculiar method: Each room is permitted to choose a favorite model of automobile to represent it; every pupil absent or tardy reduces the speed at which the car is running. In this way rivalry in attendance has been developed.

Fireproof Paper Chimney.
Germany has a paper chimney, 50 feet high, that is said to be perfectly fireproof.

Saturn's Rings.
A Norwegian scientist has advanced the theory that Saturn's rings are electrical phenomena, produced by the radiation of luminous particles from the planet, which constantly renews them.

CAPT. RALPH NUTTING RETURNS FOR SEASON

Capt. Ralph Nutting, proprietor of the Nutting line of excursion boats, was among the arrivals from the north Thursday evening. Capt. Nutting spent the summer on the Great Lakes, according to his custom, and will now devote his time to preparing for the tourist business his fleet of excursion boats which have been laid by for the summer at the Mc-Donald boatyard.

Daytime Sleep.

The woman who can drop asleep quickly, for a few minutes' nap in the daytime, is really blessed. If such a little sleeta that "knits up the raveled sleeve of care," can be managed its refreshment is wonderful. To darken the room is the first aid to slumber.
If this is out of the question for any reason, or if the nap is taken out of doors, a dark scarf tied lightly over the eyes has the needed effect.

BELMAR MAN IS GREAT BOOSTER FOR DAYTONA

D. L. Kittell, prominent business man of Belmar, N. J., and a director of the First National bank of that city,
who has visited Daytona several times
in past seasons and has many friends here, writes the assistant editor of the News as follows:

"Inclosed please find a little souvenir from our bank, in part payment for a lot of questions I asked you when I was in Daytona. I am a great booster up here for your beautiful city. Have got several started for Daytona and more to follow.
Hoping to be down with you later, I am, yours sincerely
"D. L. KITTELL."

Mrs. Beauford Deacon returned Thursday evening from a several days' pleasant visit in Jacksonville with Mr. and Mrs. Leedom Perkins, of Denver, Col., who are well known here, having spent two seasons at this place.

"Knee sale of untrimmed velvet and felt hats. Choice of any on the counter, $1.00. M. Ellis DeVoy. 11-31

J. M. Pryor, of Owenton, Ky., who has spent several seasons in Daytona and made numerous friends here, arrived Thursday evening to again be here for the winter. Mr. Pryor will make his headquarters at the Granite on North Beach street.

Dr. Walter Courtney, of Brainard, Minn., who recently returned to Daytona with his family to spend the season in their winter home at the corner of Ridgewood and Magnolia avenues, has purchased through the Halifax Automobile company, an eight-cylinder Cadillac car, with special equipment.

Mr. and Mrs. J. A. Ellis and son, Harrison, left Thursday for Pembroke, Ga., where Mr. Ellis will engage in farming. Mr. Ellis has for the past five years been in the employ of the Tomoka Land company. Mrs. F. T. Byrd of this city is a daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Ellis.

D. A. Roberts, of Ordway, Col., a friend of R. L. Evernden, who had been here for about ten days, left Thursday afternoon to join his parents at Coconut Grove, where they have a winter home, and will spend the greater part of the winter there and at Miami.

F. A. Root left this morning for Asheville, N. C., to confer with F. L. Seely concerning the finishing and equipment of the latter's cruising yacht, North State, which has been built at the Root boat yard the past summer. Mr. Root expects to return Monday afternoon or evening.

Mr. and Mrs. Hugh Malcolmson, of Chatham, Ontario, Canada, arrived Thursday evening and will spend the season here as guests at the Ivy Lane Inn. Mr. and Mrs. Malcolmson have visited Daytona for a time in the spring, usually in March, for several years on their return to Canada from Nassau where it had been their custom to spend the winter.

Mr. and Mrs. A. H. Sickler, of Camden, N. J., arrived Thursday evening and are temporarily guests at the Ivy Lane Inn, preparatory to occupying for the season their winter home, 129 South Ridgewood avenue. Mr. and Mrs. Sickler, although comparatively recent additions to the circle of winter residents, have made many friends here to welcome their return for the season. Mr. Sickler has had his car shipped south and expects its arrival in Jacksonville the latter part of next week.

Mr. and Mrs. John Meeker and their daughter and son, Miss Juanita and Holford Meeker, of Veedersburg, Ind., arrived the forepart of the week and are located in the W. H. Byne residence, 83 Fairview avenue, rented through the agency of R. L. Smith and company. Mr. and Mrs. Meeker and daughter will be here for the winter, but Holford Meeker will leave Sunday on his return to Veedersburg. The family motored south in their car in company with Mr. and Mrs. E. L. Furr and Mrs. Furr's father, Thomas Glascock, of Veedersburg, in Mr. Furr's car. Mr. and Mrs. Furr and Mr. Glascock are located for the season in the Henson apartments, 87 Fairview avenue. Mr. and Mrs. Furr have been here in several previous seasons.

MONSIEUR VOLRATH NOW AT CATTANEO'S GRILL
Having secured the services of Monsieur Volrath, from the Waldorf-Astoria, Cattaneo's grill is prepared to give unexcelled service this season. Monsieur Volrath will be head waiter, but will, in fact, be in charge during the illness of Mr. Cattaneo. They are friends of long standing.

CONGREGATIONAL SUPPER A PRONOUNCED SUCCESS
The chicken pie supper given Thursday evening in social hall by the ladies of the Congregational church, was a pronounced success, both as regards the excellence of the supper and the number of people present during the event. A feature of the evening was the attendance in a body of the members of Halifax Chapter, Royal Arch Masons, who were holding a convocation and used this opportunity for refreshment between afternoon and evening sessions.

Before He Shaved.
"One last look at your face," she said. "I want to remember you as you once were." For she knew that he was an unskillful shaver. Then she got him his cup of lather and proceedings began.—Louisville Courier-Journal.

More Censoring.
Irvin S. Cobb, the writer, attended the premiere of "Back Home," his new play written in conjunction with Bayard Veiller, in Boston. Responding to insistent calls from the audience, Cobb made a curtain speech between the second and third acts. "Don't blame me for all this," he said. "But I ask you as a personal favor to stay for the third act. It contains the only line that remains of my original play."—Green Book Magazine.

Lost Valuables Strangely Found.
A New York hotel man told this experience: • Visiting Bridgeport, he went down the bay one afternoon and seating himself on a rock, idly beat the water with his cane. A loose-fitting diamond ring fell from his finger and disappeared. The next morning at low tide he again visited the spot, but without much hope. Upon the very edge of a rock, at that tide high and dry, lay the ring. If it had fallen a sixteenth of an inch farther out it would have gone down in ten feet of water.

Mr. and Mrs. Thos. J. McLaughlin and daughter, Miss Gladys McLaughlin, of New York, are in Daytona for their fourth season and comfortably located in the Dr. Neville H. Clark residence, 127 South Palmetto avenue, rented through the Conrad-Donnelly agency. Mr. McLaughlin and daughter motored from New York in their big Packard car, arriving Wednesday evening and were temporarily guests at the Morgan hotel where Mrs. McLaughlin, who came south by rail, was awaiting them, having arrived the preceding day. Mr. McLaughlin and family were not here last winter, but during previous seasons made many friends who will be pleased to learn of their return to Daytona.

Daily Thought.
The acknowledgment of our weakness is the first step toward repairing our loss.—Thomas a Kempis.

"Nutshell."
"That crazy nut over there got so violent yesterday the warden had to put him in a straitjacket," said the guard at the insane asylum. "Umph!" said the facetious visitor, "that's what I call putting it in a nutshell."

Capt. A. G. De Jarnette and sister, Mrs. John Marshall, of New York, arrived Wednesday of this city, and joined Mr. and Mrs. De Jarnette at their home in the National bank building on South street. Mr. de Jarnette is president of the Bank of Williamstown, Mass., and Mrs. Marshall is from Crittenden, Ky. Both have previously visited here. Mr. de Jarnette will remain for the season, but Mrs. Marshall is only for a short visit.
